WORK EXPERIENCE

Design Intern

Onalaja | London | February 2026 - Present

- Contributed to collection development and design research within an active couture womenswear studio
- Researched seasonal trends and forecasting, delivering insights to support creative direction
- Assisted with garment construction and hands-on finishing to couture standards
- Supported fabric sourcing and material research, contributing to the brand's design vision
- Conducted quality control across embellishment, beading, and garment finishing
- Contributed to styling and visual direction for studio productions
- Supported social media content creation in line with the brand identity

Founder & Designer

Made of Magic | 2022 - Present

- Founded an independent label and designed two full collections within one year, independently managing the process from initial concept to finished garment
- Developed a womenswear collection of 5 looks and 11 garments, drafting all patterns from scratch, including dart manipulation, tailoring techniques, and garment construction
- Designed and constructed a bridal collection comprising a wedding dress, evening dress, veil, and evening coat — 8 garments in total — demonstrating precision finishing and formal construction skills
- Designed and produced tailored suits and coats, applying structured tailoring techniques and advanced pattern-cutting skills
- Managed the complete design process independently, including research, concept development, pattern drafting, toile making, construction, and finishing
- Studied childrenswear pattern cutting across age ranges from 1 month to 14 years, developing technical knowledge of scaled and graded pattern work

ABOUT ME

I am a highly motivated and organised recent graduate of the Grafton Academy of Fashion Design, with strong skills in pattern cutting, design development, sewing, and tailoring.

Hard-working and adaptable, I work effectively both as part of a team and independently. I bring hands-on experience in womenswear, bridalwear, tailoring, and couture techniques, alongside strong trend research and forecasting skills.

I am eager to apply my creative skills, technical expertise, and multicultural perspective within a dynamic fashion environment. Holds a valid UK visa with the right to work in the UK.
